

EDITOR INDICTED ON ERLANGER'S LIBEL CHARGE

Weller of the New York Review Released on $1,000 Bail.

Samuel M. Weller, editor of the New York Review, a weekly theatrical and sporting publication, was indicted today on a charge of criminal libel brought by Abraham L. Erlanger, head of the firm of Klaw & Erlanger and the chief power in the theatrical syndicate.

Mr. Weller's lawyer, T. J. McManus, was notified by the District Attorney's office that the indictment had been brought, whereupon he appeared with his client before Judge Swann in Part I. of General Sessions and entered a plea of not guilty, with leave to withdraw and make the necessary motions within a week. Mr. Weller was then released on $1,000 bail.

Mr. Erlanger contends that in a June issue of the Review, Weller, in writing of "The Follies of 1911," in which Mr. Erlanger is interested with Florence Zieffeld jr., caused a paragraph to be printed which reflects upon the honor of the manager. It stated that the real cabaret show after the "The Follies," the "genuine link," would be held nightly at Mr. Erlanger's summer home at Lawrence, L. I., under the joint direction of Mr. Erlanger and Pat Casey, a vaudeville booking agent.

Mr. Erlanger says his sister, Miss Ray Erlanger and Mrs. Sophie Erlanger Gottlieb and his brother, Supreme Court Justice Mitchell L. Erlanger, were visiting him at Lawrence at the time of the publication. Justice Erlanger was one of the witnesses before the Grand Jury. The other witnesses were William Husey, John Murray, A. L. Erlanger and "Pat" Casey.

Application was made to the Grand Jury last month to indict Mr. Weller, but it was refused. Mr. Erlanger's attorneys then applied to Judge Swann for an order of recommitment to the August Grand Jury, and the evidence was submitted yesterday.

The indictment is an outcome of the bitter theatrical war between the syndicate and its rivals. The Review being a paper that has severely attacked Klaw & Erlanger ever since it was started.

WOODROW WILSON REVIEWS A GREAT PARADE OF BABIES

Tremendous Crowd Sees the Youngsters at Long Branch Carnival.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent.)

LONG BRANCH, Aug. 11.—This was the biggest day Long Branch has had since the palm days when the wheels were spinning and the dealers were slipping cards out of the little boxes and when every day was a big day.

To-day this town not only put over a baby parade that was as good as any Asbury Park ever gave, but it also entertained Woodrow Wilson, Governor of the State and prospective Democratic candidate for the Presidency.

The combination of Governor Wilson and the babies drew out a tremendous crowd which packed the bluff walk all afternoon. It was the second day of the carnival which the business men of town are giving to live up to interest in the old city and enthusiasm ran high.

The terrific heat which rendered the ocean front as torrid as the topographical centre of the Sahara Desert didn't affect the order of the citizens and summer residents in the least and when Governor Wilson drove up in a big automobile from the Shore Club and stepped into the reviewing stand shortly after three o'clock he was greeted with a rip roaring salvo of cheers that fairly took his breath away. He was wearing his natural suit, neatly pressed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

With him was former Governor E. C. Stokes. The parade was headed by Miss Tamire Pannell, the Queen of the Carnival, who sat enthroned on a float surrounded by attendants. She took a place near Gov. Wilson and also reviewed the parade. The procession included an amazing variety of floats and gaily decorated baby carriages, all occupied by more or less cherubic youngsters of assorted ages. Every condition of life and strata of society was represented and the entire pageant was a glittering success. To-night there will be a masque fete on the bluff walk, followed by a masque ball at Ocean Park Casino.

CHAIRMAN NUGENT SAYS HE HASN'T BEEN DEPOSED

Grand Jury Will Investigate Scrap at Meeting of Jersey Democrats.

There was nothing of the air of defeat about James R. Nugent, the deposed Democratic State Chairman, when seen at his office in the City Law Department at Newark to-day. On the contrary, Mr. Nugent was in evident good humor.

"I have a big raft of city work to get out in short order," he said, "and I am not disposed to talk politics just now." Later, however, he made the following statement:

"The meeting yesterday of members of the Democratic State Committee was neither formally called nor legally held. In the first place, there was no authority for its calling. I had notified those members who were desirous of holding a meeting and who had joined in a request for me to issue a call, that I would give them a meeting. It was the intention to call in the near future.

"Those members who were guided by some hidden and hostile hand were not content with my assurance, and in violation of the courtesy they owed me as chairman they, with the aid of William K. Devereux, secretary of the committee, ignored my rights and arranged for a meeting.

"I maintain that any action taken at that meeting was void and of no effect because of its irregularity. I am not ready at this time to say what my future course will be with respect to the situation that has developed in the State Committee, but I shall at all times consider that the thing that is of primary importance always is the welfare of the Democratic party."

As a result of the riotous scenes at the meeting of the Democratic State Committee yesterday afternoon, the actions of the deposed Chairman and the gang of thugs he is alleged to have brought with him will be called to the attention of the next Monmouth County Grand Jury.

William J. Kraft of Camden who was assaulted and whose proxy for State Committee member William H. Davis is alleged to have been stolen, will present the entire matter to Supreme Court Justice Willard P. Voorhes and the prosecutor of Monmouth County, and ask to have the Grand Jury take action.

ROWDY MESSENGERS SENT TO WORKHOUSE.

On the complaint of several brokers and others this afternoon Magistrate Corbin in the Tombs Court sent two messenger boys to the Workhouse for twenty days on charges of disorderly conduct.

The boys were Edward Malley, eighteen years old, of No. 26 Pearl street Brooklyn, and James Maloney, eighteen, of No. 124 Eighth avenue, both employed by the Commercial Cable Company.

According to the witnesses, the two boys in Exchange place this afternoon accosted peddlers and peddler men, upstopping carts and striking one of the owners.

The boys said that they gave one of the peddlers a nickel and did not receive the proper change, at which they protested.

Eat and Get Thin.

This is turning an old phrase face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this revision possible.

If you are overfat and also averse to physical exertion during this warm weather, and likewise fond of the table and will want to reduce your excess fat several pounds, do this: Go to your druggist for (write the Marmola Co., 184 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.) and give him your order for Marmola's Prescription Tablets. For this modest amount of money the druggist will put you in the way of satisfying your ambition for a nice, trim, slim figure, without loss of time or even on the hottest summer days. He will hand you a large case of Marmola's Prescription Tablets compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription, one of which you must take after each meal and at bedtime until you begin to lose your fat at the rate of 12 to 16 ounces a day. That is all. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully, and without a doubt that flabby flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind its natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

AGREEMENT BRINGS THE TARIFF SNARL NEAR SETTLEMENT

Congress Conference Committee Fixes Flat Rate of 29 Per Cent. on Raw Wool.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The full House and Senate conference on the Wool Tariff Revision bill to-day agreed on a flat rate of 29 per cent. on raw wool. The committee also agreed on the House classification of wool. The agreement on these two points seemed to remove the greatest obstacles in the way of final agreement which it was said might be reached to-day.

As agreed on the classification provision of the bill reads:

"On wool of the sheep, hair of the camel, goat, alpaca and other like animals, and all wools and hair on the skin of such animals the duty shall be 29 per cent. ad valorem."

The La Follette bill called for two classes of wool—wool and hair on the skin being in a second class—whereas the House provision, accepted by the conference, provides for but one class for all wools.

Under the compromise the second Senate class of wools, fixed in the Senate bill at 10 per cent. is thus increased to 29 per cent. These are the coarse or carpet wools. The Senate rate on first class wools was 35 per cent. and the House rate 30 per cent.

Soon after the conference met it was learned definitely that Representative Underwood and Senator La Follette, the sub-committee on conference, had been given 2 1/2 cents apart on raw wool.

Mr. Underwood held out for a duty of 2 1/2 per cent. ad valorem, while Mr. La Follette insisted upon 30 per cent. The full committee split the difference and compromised on 29 per cent.

The free list bill, it was said, could be agreed upon in short order, but there seemed to be a disposition to let the conference hold it back until an agreement was forced on wool.

Neighbors Heard Shot and Some One Running Away—Woman Is Missing.

When a tiny stream of red began percolating through the ceiling from flat No. 27 at No. 221 East Fifty-sixth street to the flat of John Durrus on the third floor, underneath, a hurry call was sent for Policeman Schultz of the East Fifty-sixth street station. The policeman found the dead body of Christopher Anagnos, twenty-six years old, of No. 78 Lexington avenue, on the floor of the upper flat.

The man had been shot through the right temple. On the floor was a revolver and in a dresser drawer the police found the box it belonged in. The flat has been occupied by Mrs. Laura Anagnos, from whom Christopher had been separated for a year.

The woman could not be found. The Durrus family heard a shot at noon. They paid no attention to the noise until blood came through their ceiling. Then they remembered that they heard some one coming rapidly from the flat just after the shot was fired.

Anagnos and his wife had been involved in much trouble. Two weeks ago she went to his place of business at No. 78 Lexington avenue, where he cleaned hats. He threw her out of the shop. She drew a pistol and both were taken to Yorkville Court, where he was held under a bond of $300 to maintain the peace.

The detectives working on the case think some one shot the man as he was about to leave the flat. He had his coat on his arm at the time and there was no indication of suicide.

While the police were investigating the killing, fire broke out next door, at No. 223 East Fifty-sixth street, and the neighbors had a double case of excitement.

HOLD FIREMAN AS SLAYER.
Coroner's Jury Decides He Caused Death of Janitor.

Although Coroner's Physician Weston, after an autopsy, decided that Thomas Feeney died Aug. 1 in St. Vincent's Hospital of natural causes, a Coroner's jury to-day held John J. McGrane, a city fireman, responsible for Feeney's death. McGrane was held by Coroner Hollaender in $2,500 bail on a charge of manslaughter. Bail was furnished.

Feeney was fifty years old and the janitor of a flat house at No. 154 West sixty-eighth street, near engine house No. 40, to which McGrane was at that time assigned. Several witnesses testified to-day that McGrane and Feeney had a fight in the hall of the flat house, July 1, and that Feeney was knocked down by the fireman and badly hurt.
